One of the most beautiful German bedtime songs comes to life in this picture book edition. Pe Grigo's charming illustrations succeed in transferring the text to the present day and open up new perspectives on Wilhelm Hey's verses. Instructions for making your own star potato print offer young readers the opportunity to get active and create their own starry sky and create their own starry sky.

THE ILLUSTRATOR

Pe Grigo, born in 1972, has been drawing since she was two years old. After training and studying, she made drawing her profession and has been illustrating texts for young and old with heart and soul for many years. She has already illustrated Joseph Eichendorff's "Christmas" and Christian Morgenstern's "Easter poem" in the POESIE FÜR KINDER series.

- Modern illustrations give the traditional lullaby a new shine
- With sheet music for making music together
